

<http://wiki.homerecz.com>

.....	1
.....	1
.....	1
.....	1
Self-Noise level	5
Self-noise level	5
Reference	5
.....	7
.....	7
.....	7
.....	7

Self-Noise level

가 가

가 ,
가
가
1)

Self-noise level

“Self-noise level” refers to the inherent noise level of a device.

White noise is generated in the signal due to components such as resistors. White noise has the characteristic of having the same level across the entire frequency spectrum, which means that as you go to higher frequencies, its energy becomes more prominent. As a result, higher-frequency white noise is relatively more audible.

Reference

<https://www.soundonsound.com/sound-advice/why-specifications-matter-part-2-noise?>

- Facebook
- Twitter
- Email

1)

가

<http://wiki.homerecz.com>

From:
<https://wiki.homerecz.com/> -

Last update: 2024/02/27

: (admin@homerecz.com)